

2015 Druckenbrod Daylily Introductions and Prices (Registered August 2014)

Mark Druckenbrod introductions:

Lily Creek Dazzler (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#179-6 (Sink into Your Eyes X Precious Candy)

Tet, 5.5" bloom, Early Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 30" scape with 3-way branching and 20 buds.

Lily Creek Dazzler is my first introduction and bears the name of our cherished home - Lily Creek Gardens. This yellow peach cream with a bold plum eye and edge is a real standout in the garden. The double ruffled edge of plum and yellow can reach ½" in width. A large yellow and green throat compliment this striking flower. Fragrant. Vigorous, rapid fan increase quickly establishes beautiful display specimens. This striking flower combines the beauty of southern breeding with Cleveland's polar vortex winters! Very winter hardy. Almost dormant in foliage habit. Thick, green early spring emerging foliage is a pleasure to uncover after the snows have melted. $75

Bubbling Blue (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#103-14 (Mrs. John Cooper X Asian Fairy Bluebird)

Tet, 5" bloom, Early midseason, Semi-evergreen, 35" scape with 3-way branching and 20 buds.

Bubbling Blue is a charming bitone with lavender purple petals and light lavender sepals. It has a large slate blue eye and edge with an additional fine outer edge of ruffled yellow. Yellow throat blends to a green center. Fragrant. A rapid grower, Bubbling Blue quickly forms large, thick, showy clumps. A happy flower that greets you every day and is always in bloom from early season to late. Very winter hardy. Almost dormant foliage habit. $50

Dancing Lemons (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#28-2 (Belle of Ashwood X Princess Di)

Tet, 5" bloom, Early midseason, Semi-evergreen, 35" scape with 6-way branching and 23 buds.

Dancing Lemons boasts a living bouquet of flowers on each stem. Each flower is a beautiful perfectly round yellow self with a soft pink blush on the midribs. Bright canary yellow ruffled edge and a large green eye make this fragrant flower a standout. Mature clumps are simply amazing with multiple blooms carried at multiple heights opening daily on each flower scape. One or two flowers opening per scape per day is normal. Frequently there are three or four opening, with six as the record. From a distance it looks like yellow lemons are dancing all over the deep green foliage. A beautiful garden plant and wonderful potential for those breeding for multiple branching. 6-way branching is a conservative estimate carefully following the new AHS system of counting branches. Very winter hardy. $75

Mars Rising (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#RZ-50 (Rock Solid X Zahadoom)

Tet, 6" bloom, Early Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 42" scape with 3-way branching and 18 buds.

Mars Rising is a peach cream with a bold, distinct 3" perfectly round plum-red eye and edge. This flower is accented by a deep green throat with a yellow blush. Fragrant. Flowers are held high on strong sturdy scapes. Vigorous and hardy due to the parent Rock Solid. Very winter hardy. Almost dormant in foliage habit. Thick, green early spring foliage. $50

Mom's Gift of Violets (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#148-1 (Rock Solid X (Mrs. John Cooper x Create Your Dream))

Tet, 6" bloom, Early Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 36" scape with 3-way branching and 14 buds.

As a young child, my mom taught me how to grow African violets and that started my life's journey in the world of horticulture. Mom's Gift of Violets is a cream white with a bright violet blue eye and edge. It's that classic, very beautiful African violet blue color. The violet eye is edged with a deep purple. A bright yellow throat with a small green eye compliments the flower. Fragrant. Rapid grower forming a beautiful clump. Winter hardy. Almost dormant in foliage habit. Thick green early spring foliage. $50

Pockets of Peepers (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#39-2 (Captivating Smile X Precious Candy)

Tet, 5.5" bloom, Early Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 35" scape with 3-way branching and 18 buds.

This name is a classic Cindyism! Ask us to explain next time you visit our gardens. Pockets of Peepers is a purple with a violet slate blue eye and edge. The purple edge is further surrounded by a fine yellow edge. The flower is complete with a large yellow throat with a green center. A beautiful tricolor effect of purple, violet and yellow. Fragrant. Frequently, several flowers bloom each day on the same scape at different heights giving a mature clump a beautiful display from all sides. Good grower and increaser. Very winter hardy. Almost dormant in foliage habit. Thick green early spring foliage. $50

Pumpkin Flare (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#9-3 (Ashwood Summer Sunshine X Fox Hunter)

Tet, 6.5" bloom, Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 32" scape with 2-way branching and 14 buds

Sometimes a flower is just irresistible and I make a point to look at it every day. Yes it's orange, but picture sun flares radiating from a pumpkin with flashes of fire. Pumpkin Flare is an apricot orange with a large rose red band. A bold triangular yellow throat has yellow flares that radiate out on the midribs. This fragrant flower has a nice green center deep in the throat. Rose veining on the tepals adds a beautiful dimension to this flower. Winter hardy, with quick recovery after the polar vortex. $50

Victoria Rose (Druckenbrod, 2015)

#21-8 (Belle of Ashwood X Barbie in Pink)

Tet, 6" bloom, Early Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 35" scape with 2-way branching and 12 buds.

My God Daughter asked me to be God Father of her daughter. So I am now two generations blessed with the recent arrival of Victoria Rose. What could be more perfect than a beautiful rose pink flower with a large yellow throat covering half of the petals and a wonderful ruffled yellow edge. The throat is unique with its deep green center, changing to canary yellow and blending to a soft yellow halo. It's a real pleasure to see these large pink platter-like flowers floating over the green foliage. Fragrant. Very winter hardy. Almost dormant foliage habit. $50

Cynthia Druckenbrod Introductions:

Aaron Mazer (Druckenbrod-C, 2015)

#88-2 (Leprechaun Prince X Precious Candy)

Tet, 5.5" bloom, Early Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 39"scape with 3-way branching and 14 buds.

Named for my brother who loved bold, dark colors, Aaron Mazer is a rich red-wine purple with subtle purple eye and edge, surrounded by a fine ruffled yellow edge. A bright yellow throat is accented with a tiny green center. Good fan increase ensures a fast display clump with abundant scapes and bloom. Very winter hardy. Almost dormant in foliage habit. Thick green early spring foliage. $50

Fun with Dick and Jude (Druckenbrod-C, 2015)

#166-8 (Rowdy Red X Coral Majority)

Tet, 5.5" bloom, Early Midseason, Semi-evergreen, 37" scape with 3-way branching and 17 buds.

Each bloom of Fun with Dick and Jude puts a smile on our face and reminds us of our very good friends.

This bright coral red with a small red band is a real standout across the garden. The petals have a very fine edge of bubbly apricot. And an apricot yellow throat is highlighted with a green center. A fast grower and winter hardy. Thick green early spring foliage. $50
